CPP /PreK Advisory Meeting:

PK report of assessment data analysis, goals, and action plan: After the fall checkpoint, both AM and PM classes are below average in Reading and Math, which is a normal benchmark for the beginning of the school year. The other areas Social Emotional, Physical, Language, and Cognitive have students below and meeting expectations. In the areas of Literacy and Math, a concentration in using math manipulatives during math centers, and enrichment activities during Direct Instruction will be integrated before the Winter checkpoint in February. Based on the EOY results, more literacy and writing need to be available to students in learning centers, so books have been added to each center, along with writing opportunities. In PK these look like drawing pictures to convey ideas in written form, or copying letters.

Colorado Shines QRIS status update: Met with coach today (11/8) and the application process has started.

PDIS: Staff all added to the system and continue to work on self-assessments and Individual Professional Development Plans.

Colorado Shines: We are preparing for 2020 rating in April. Will apply before 11/14.
